ReSound

a whole new listening experience

ReSound has a new accessory designed to minimize noise for maximum understanding. The new Mini Microphone is a small and discreet clip-on microphone which transmits speech directly to your Alera hearing instruments. This helps you hear speech clearly allowing you to enjoy one-on-one communication in difficult listening situations such as restaurants and in the car. An added bonus is that the Mini Microphone can be plugged into external audio devices like iPods and various other MP3 players allowing you to stream music directly to your hearing devices! It makes a great travel companion when you are away from home - just place it in front of the speakers of the TV to stream directly to your ears. ReSound also has several other accessories that can be used with Alera instruments to improve the sound quality of television, telephone, and various other Bluetooth devices. Hearing in noise is the most difficult situation to hear in and we live in a noisy world! The new mini Microphone will improve your everyday listening needs!

Call today to try ReSound Alera hearing instruments!!! For a limited time, you can get a FREE Mini Mic with the purchase of 2 devices*!!!

(*Only on Alera 9 and 7 devices)

Happy Holidays!

We hope you have a very Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year!!!

The average hearing device user purchases new devices every 4 years. Technology advances so quickly that improved products are available practically every year. Most hearing instrument companies have accessories for TV, cell phone, MP3 players, and other Bluetooth devices to help you hear better. Audiologists recommend those with hearing loss have a hearing test once a year or sooner with noticed decrease. At your annual evaluation, ask about new technology including accessories that are now available to use with your device.

Are you a candidate for an FM system?

Even with your hearing devices do you still have trouble understanding speech in noisy restaurants, church, conference rooms, in cars, on the phone/cell phone, or at a distance? If yes, then an FM system may be right for you. Please call to schedule an appointment for a free demonstration at our next FM Event.
